

Publication: Irish Examiner

Date: Thursday, June 29, 2006

Page: 18

Extract: 1 of 1

Circulation: 57.331

Author:

Headline: New support for wireless networks

---

New support for wireless networks

Dublin: The internet infrastructure company, Hosting365, together with Azotel and Motorola, yesterday announced a new suite of services that is set to extend broadband reach in Ireland. Branded as Azotel, the comprehensive solution enables Wireless Internet Service Providers (WISPs) across the country to deliver viable, profitable and class-leading regional and metropolitan broadband services ranging from as low as 30 users to several thousands of users.